and unanimity the exception. We have been induced to say so on this occasion as we learn from some of the Indi n papers, recently to hand, that an American Physician. Dr. D. B. Simmons, for several years "Medical Adviser-in-chief" to the Japanese Government, who is just now engaged in Sanitary explorations, says that Japan has made immense strides—on the basis of scientific methods in Sanitation. On the Seymour Terrace, while she was engaged other hand, we have Mr E. Morse writing in the American Popular Science Monthly that while the Japanese have made great later advices, private or otherwise, than his progress in other respects, they have not yet recognized the value of Western hygiene. Their primitive system of removing offal from their dwellings, every day or two, to be scattered over their cultivated areas has been highly commended, and to this practice is the comparative immunity from disease attributed. But Mr Morse remarks that, on the appearance of cholera in Japan in 1878, the very customs of the people which tend to thwart the ravages of certain other diseases, promoted the ravages of cholera—the greatest epidemical scourge of Asia! Dr. Simmons asserts that "if the Japanese had only money enough, they would go in for pure water morrow. supply and scientific drainage in a fashion that would excite the emulation of Bombay itself !" It is really hard to reconcile irre-

> Lord Hartington's reply in the House relative to the remission of the Indian import duty on British cotton goods not being a reason for the remission of the British duty on Indian tea and coffee, is a matter for congratulation to China. A diminution of 6d. per pound on all Indian tea imported into the United Kingdom would have simply annulled the Chinese tes trade in the same quarter. India is not in a position yet to meet the entire wants of the United Kingdom on this head. Compliance with the request would have been, therefore, contrary to the acknowledged principles of political economy. But the imperial government have gone further, and have sanctioned the abolition of all the Indian import duties except those on "wine, beer, spirite, liqueurs, arms, and ammunition, salt, and opium." This is the most important fiscal change yet announced-since the abolition of the H. E. I. C.—in Indian Finance. It is the thin end of the wedge of "Free Trade" in accord with the soundest economic principles.

The importance attached by the Portuguese Government to the Goa Railway may be inferred from the fact that the cost of all the land required to be taken up along the line to the British Frontier will be defrayed from the Lisbon Treasury. The contractors for the work both in Portuguese and British territory are Sir Thomas Thompson, and Messrs Dixon, Bayly and Bulkley a well-known English, or rather Scotch firm. The Chief Engineer is Senhor Xavier Cordeiro, the newly appointed Director General of Public Works at Goa. The number of workmen within the Goanese Boundary exceeds 6000; and it has been found necessary to place Dr. Nunes in medical charge of the railway works. This -the Marmagoa-Hubli Railway-is considered the most important public measure ever undertaken in Portuguese India, which is the oldest European Settlement in the

To-DAY an amah employed in the service of Mr E. Bowdler, Acting Surveyor General, met her death by falling from the verandah of that gentleman's house in hanging out some clothes. The poor woman had overbalanced herself and fallen to the ground, a distance of 15 or 16 feet, and sustained injuries so severe that she died in the Government Civil Hospital a few hours after the accident. Every measure was adopted to relieve the sufferings of the woman by Dr. Hartigan, who was in attendance at Mr Bowdler's house shortly after the affair happened, but little or nothing could be done, and he ordered her removal to the Hospital. We understand that an inquest will be held on the body to-

FROM Tamsui we learn that Mr W. Hancock, of the Customs Service there, goes over to Amoy to take charge of the Customs there, in place of Mr Russell; and Mr H. E. Hobson again becomes Commissioner at Tameni. Mr Tyzack, superintending engineer of the Kelung Colliery, goes home on leave; and Mr H. J. Fisher, of the Customs, also proceeds on a short leave of absence. Mr W. E. Clodd, a tidewaiter in the Customs Service at Tamsui, died suddenly at Kelung on the 25th ultimo. The Tea was arriving at the Tamsui market very slowly, and only a small quantity had been brought in up to date (17th inst.); while the trade in Kelung coal had considerably slackened. The Governor of Fuhkien was at Tameui at our last advices : but he purposed returning very soon to Foochow. received to-day announcing the deaths of Mr William Mather Anderson, chief manager of the Oriental Banking Corporation in London. Mr Anderson, who has been absent in Italy for the last four months on account of bad health, succumbed to the effects of congestion of the lungs. The late chief manager would appear to have expired on the day on which the Bank's annual meeting was held in London, for we learn that the meeting took place yesterday, and that it passed off in a very satisfactory liable to be accompanied with heavy manner, the usual dividend of 4 per cent. having been declared. Mr Anderson was not generally known in the China ports, although he has passed through here on inspection duty connected with the Bank. Telegraphic intelligence is said to have effect that no dividend was declared at the meeting of the Chartered Mercantile Bank of India, London & China. No mention is though Captain Thomsett is not acmade of leavy losses, and it may be that this measure is merely one of a precautionary and recuperative nature.

THE Amoy Clazette says that the following proclamation anent gambling has been the general circumstances in which seamen, issued by Admiral P'eng :-

"Gambling is a vicious practice and is dangerous wherever it takes place. At the present time many rascals meet together to gamble, in violation of the law, and Foreigners are engaged to screen them, the morals of the people thus being more than ever corrupted. The representatives of the different Nations have been communicated with, to the end that mutual action may be taken to suppress the vice. A reply has been received from the German Consul condemning the practice, and stating that to foster it is hateful to the people of all |-Nations. The habit must be put a stop to and the offenders must be driven away. THE SUICIDE IN THE GAOL.

The adjourned inquiry into the death of John Berry, who committed snicide in the Gaol was resumed at the Magistracy this afternoon, before the Coroner, H. E. Wodehouse, Esq., and the following jurors: Mesars E. C. Ray, G. Prosch, and M.

The Coroner: Gentlemen, The inquiry on which we are engaged is as you are aware into the death of John Berry. The evidence has gone to prove that he was one of those men who, from whatever cause, are cast adrift in this Colony. From time to time he has been sent to gaol as a rogue and varabond, his last sentence being three months imprisonment with hard labour. There is evidence to show that in | months previous to his death, and arrested

WE regret to learn that a telegram was despair at the irremediable condition of him on the 26th of March last as a regue things he put an end to his existence by and vagabond. When arrested he was hanging himself in gaol. If the Coroner's duties were confined merely to registering the fact and the manner of death-by murder, suicide, natural causes, or accident,the inquiry might have ceased here, and you would have had no difficulty in returning a verdict. It is the Coroner's duty, however, not merely to record the fact, but to inquire into the cause of death, and thus to put the jury in possession of the surround ing circumstances which may have led the final catastrophe. Especially is this so in the case of felo de se, which is a penal offence of the gravest character, and civil disabilities, and the surrounding circumstances of which have therefore a particular bearing on the quality and magnitude of the crime. If then in the present case there is evidence to show that it was despair at his hopeless condition which impelled deceased to kill himself the question naturally arises were his circonstances such as in any way to extenuate been also received here from London to the the moral enormity of so grave an offence as felo de se? She put her hand in her pocket and said she had got a few more dollars to buy clothes with, and that the thieves had not taken her money. It was a fact that her clothes had been taken the night previous to the conversation, from a wall on which they were hanging, but by whom she could not say. She had spoken of the theft in the house, and reported the matter to the Police. On the evening in question she wont to the kitchen, as was her habit, to get some het water to make tea before going to bed. The two defendants and a third man were in the kitchen at the time, and immediately she got inside, the second defendant went to the door quietly and shut it, and would not allow her to leave the place, but, in conjunction with the other two, searched her person with the apparent object of stealing her purse. The first defendant tried to pull a ring off her finger and inflicted a scratch on her finger, and a bruise on her arm. She screamed and her husband came to her assistance, and the two defendants were secured, but the third man succeeded in getting away. lately submitted to the Government India a proposal to which we would draw the attention of Government here. It is to encourage free immigration from India o Burmah by subsidising the steamship companies so as to enable them to reduce their fares for deck passengers. Mr Bernard proposed that the Government should oay Rs. 1.8.0 for every deck massenger rom Calcutta to Rangoon, and Rs. 2.8.0 for every such passenger from Madras ports o the same destination, on the condition of a proportionate reduction of fare to the ndividual by the companies. The subsidy s to be paid on every deck passenger, the Government taking the chance of his being an immigrant with intentions of settling lown. The total charge is estimated at Rs. 80,000 for the first year, with a possible rise in three years to Rs. 150,000. The subsidy would be paid monthly on returns from the steamship companies showing the arrivals of deck passengers. It will apply only to arrivals, and deck passengers leaving Burmah will have to pay the full fare themselves. It is no part of the scheme to interfere in any way with the future of the immigrant; he will be left quite his own master. The difficulty to be overcome is to induce him to come to Burmah. Once there, he will find plenty of work to his hand; if desirous of settling down as a cultivator, the land is there in abundance, and the terms of its acquisition are simple

He immediately matters to the Captain General, who frankly admitted that a great wrong had been done to the men, and a breach of International Law committed by the Captain and those acting in concert with him, in their whole conduct with regard to the movements and government of the vessel here at Singaporo. and that the Captain had been rightly committed for contempt of Court by the Chief Justice here. He undertook to release the men at Manila on condition, says one account, that the Captain was released here he could not be brought to promise to de this at once, but after an interval of say three days after the arrival. This delay and the departure to sea of the English man-of-war he asked for, so as to do away with the idea or the appearance that he was acting under compulsion. A second correspondent says that it was agreed that the men should be sent to Singapore to be delivered up to the Supreme Court there, so that a full return should be made to the writ of habeas corpus; and considerable astonishment was expressed at the news of the Captain's release. The three Englishmen are at the disposal of the Consul, and are residing at Brown's Hotel, well cared for: The Chief and the Second Engineer had been engaged for several days in proparing separate voluminous written statements of the whole history of their imprisonment and bad treatment, which had been sent in to the Consul. (Eccuing Bulletin.) A-great many people at the East seem not to be able to "get the hang," as the phrase goes, of the Chinese question. They wonder why it is that the progressive Caucasian muchle to compete with the immobile Chinaman. It is our custom to believe that we are superior to all other nationalities. An American ought to hold his own with any other man, no matter what may be the terms of the conflict. It is not difficult to discover below what is said and printed on the subject, the notion that Californians are an idle; good-for-nothing, weak and enervated variety of the human species, and that this is the true explanation of the opposition in Chinese competition.

From the usual points of view the white man is far superior to the Chinaman, and in California there is no deterioration of the race. He has more indurance, more music, more brains, more skill, more courage than the Mongol. But for all that he cannot make the fight which the latter puts up. If continued he has to retire disastrously from the field. What he has to contend against is cheap diet, cheap lodging, cheap clothing, cheap religion and no incumbrance. It is beef and potatoes against rice and garbage, the neat and comfortable cottage against a bunk in a human hive, modern clothing against a chear blouse, churches and school house against i hideous idol placated with bits of paper, man with a wife and children against an interloper without til of any kind This is the sort of conflict to which the Caucasian is invited. The mere statement of the conditions shows that he could not long maintain it. He has to retire beaten because he is an American, needing the comforts by which an American is surrounded—because he is a man of family, with many, perhaps, depending on him, and because he has an expensive Government and an expensive Church to support. The highest illustration of how the contest is proceeding is found in the fact that the free Chinaman on the outside can successfully compete with convict, labor—that is to say the Chinaman can support himself, in his way, and make money on the sum which it costs the State to feed, clothe, lodge and guard its criminals. As a conscouence he can make articles for less than they can. This is a proposition which, if successfully grasped by the Eastern mind, would bring the controversy to a close. If we were to take the workers of our own race, feed, house and clothe them after the manner usual in this country, and pay them no wages, the Chinaman would be able to turn out cheaper work. It would not be a bad formulation of the case to say that this is a competition which leads to barbarism. The lower the laborer gets down in the social scale the better he will be able to sustain the shock. It is the boast of Western civilization that it dignifies labor and elevates the laboring man. Many of our laborers to-day enjoy comforts and luxuries unknown to the Plantagenet Kings of England. They are, in many cases, better lodged than Charlemagne. The movement is ever nowards. But in competition with the Mongol the Caucasian must descend. He must discard wife and children: he must issue from his cottage never to return; he must practically Ir has long been a question with us strip himself to the buff, and get down to whether one has a right to puff tobacco | the gutter. THE CHINA REVIEW. PUBLISHED BI-MONTHLY. TENTH YEAR.

TIMIS Review, which was intended to meet the wants of many students of Chinese [iu], caused by the discontinuance of " Notes and to time such items of information, lists, Queries on China and Jupan," has reached its Penth Volume. The Review discusse. those topics which are uppermost in the minds of students of the "Far East" and about which every intelligent, person connected with China or Japan is desirous of acquiring trustworthy information. It includes many interesting Notes and original Papers on the Arts, Sciences, Ethnology, Folklore, Geography, History, Literature, Mythology, Natural History, Antiquities, and Social Manners and Customs, etc., etc., of China, Japan, Mongolia, Tibet, and the Far East generally. Recently a new departure has been taken, and the Theriere now gives papers on Trade, Commerce, and Descriptive notes of Travel by well-known writers. It was thought that by extending the scope of the Record in this direction, the Magazine would be made more generally uaeful. The Review department reactives special attention, and endeavours are made to present a careful and concise record of Literature on China, etc., and to give critiques embedying sketches of the most recent works on such topics. Authors and Publishers are requested to forward works to "Editor, China Review, care of China Trubner's Oriental Record contains the 1st Class Cargo Boat of 8 or 900 following notice of the thing Review:— The present publication, judging by the number now before us, is intended to occupy a position, as regards China and the neighbouring countries, somewhat similar to that which has been filled in India by the Calculla Review. The great degree of attention that has been bestowed of late years | 3rd Class Cargo Boat or Ha-kau Boat of upon the investigation of Chinese literature, antiquities, and social developments, to say 3rd Class Cargo Boat or Ha-kan Boat of nothing of linguistic studies, has led to the accumulation of important stores of information, rendering some such channel of publicity as is now provided extremely desirable; and contributions of much interest may fairly be looked for from the members of the foreign consular services, the Chinese Customs' corps, and the missionary body. among whom a high degree of Chinese scholarship is now assiduously cultivated; and who are severally represented in the first number of the Review by papers highly creditable to their respective authors . . . Some translations from Chinese novels and plays are marked by both accuracy and freshness of style; and an account of the career of the Chinese poet-statesman of the eleventh century, Su Tung-p'o, by Mr. E. C. Bowra, notices of new books relating to China and the East, which will be a useful feature of the Review, if carried out with punctuality and detail, we are glad to notice that Notes" and "Queries" are destined to find a place in its pages also. It is to be hoped that this opening for contributions on Chinese subjects may evoke a similar Jegree of literary seal to that which was displayed during the lifetime of its predecessor in the field, and that the China Review may receive the support necessary to insure its continuance.
